Celebrate the Holidays with the Queen in Boston: Emeline Michel Captures Hearts with her 9th Release, Reine De Coeur

Haiti's singer songwriter Emeline Michel returns with a new single, "Gade Papi", and a new album, Reine de Coeur (Queen of Hearts), the first album in four years. Over the past two decades, Emeline has blessed the world with grace, social consciousness, and above all, her enchanting voice. She remains one of the most entrancing performers to emerge from among the divas of the African diaspora, touring regularly in the US, Canada, the Caribbean, Europe and Africa.

True to the style that Emeline has developed over the past 20 years, Reine de Coeur is a sophisticated presentation of Haitian rhythms and genres, from kompa to twoubadou, informed by an international blend of idioms and timbres. "This album is a true reflection of life's moments: love, hope, passion, pain and faith. I wanted this album to be raw and real so that people from all over could relate. Much of the album was written in Africa and in Haiti. Though these two lands are thousands of miles apart, the rhythms and melodies of the two places truly serve as backdrops to the stories being told.

Reine de Coeur, produced under Emeline's Cheval de Feu, will be presented on Friday, December 21st, at 8 PM, in Hibernian Hall-Boston @ 184 Dudley Street. Fans will have the opportunity to hear the new songs, purchase the CD, and hear Emeline with her full band.
